In 2004, HTIT started its journey as a pioneer of a new style of adventure travel by sharing the treasures of Hokkaido. We are constantly opening new doors and making local destinations previously inaccessible for travelers available all over Hokkaido. We provide a compelling combination of personal and professional travel advice, knowledge beyond that of the guidebook insider, and behind the scenes access to places and authentic local experiences generally not available for the public. Our mission is to create for you a journey of a lifetime, every time you travel with us.

What We Offer As Our Services

Vehicle Support

We will provide a vehicle to support cyclists and carry water, snacks and any other items needed for cycling. If you need to stop cycling at any point during the day, you are welcome to take a rest in the support vehicle. Please be aware that the number of seats may be limited depending on the number of people and the vehicle we use.

Small Group

We find value in maintaining friendly, small-group settings. That's why we cap the maximum number of our groups at 8 people on scheduled tours. This allows us to reduce the social and environmental impacts caused by our travels, as well as giving us the opportunity to visit smaller facilities, which often give us more interesting insights and unique experiences.

Shikoku Tours

Shikoku Tours was established with the goal of introducing adventurous people to the wonders of the smallest of Japan's main islands, and to help preserve its unique heritage and culture. We work closely with local stakeholders to craft tours that satisfy our international customers while contributing to regional economies.

We're constantly learning, from our partners and friends in Shikoku, and from the feedback that we receive from our customers. Our website is the most comprehensive library of Shikoku travel content, reflecting our decade-long effort to document and promote the island we call home.

Rod Walters – Tour guide

Rod has spent 30 years in Japan, 20 of those in Shikoku. A regular outdoorsman, he loves cycling, hiking, and just about anything involving water. He's scared of heights but likes to jump off high places nonetheless.

Rod regularly travels all over Shikoku, consulting to local government on inbound tourism, researching and planning tours, and of course guiding visitors. His interests include history and culture, the natural sciences, and food. He's qualified as a Sake Sommelier and Educator by the Sake Sommelier Academy.

Having developed a particular affinity with the heroic maritime clans of the Inland Sea, he could be accused of a bit of regional nationalism.

Aboshi Yuji – Cycling guide

Yuji is a cycling guide from Hiroshima. He's a licensed interpreter-guide and tour conductor. He's cycled around Japan three times, and around Taiwan once, among many other cycling and backpacking trips in Japan and overseas.

Yuji has worked with national and local government to design cycling tours and has served as guide to overseas media and VIPs for Shimanami Kaido cycling events.

Ochi Kenji – Cycling guide

Kenji owns a popular bicycle shop in Saijo and is certified as a guide by the Ehime Cycling Guide Association.

Based on the experience of attending cycling events for 35 years as a bike shop owner, he started developing guided cycling tours around the Ishizuchi mountain range. Although the slopes are many and steep, using e-bikes allows you to enjoy dynamic cycling in nature regardless of your physical fitness level.

Jon Daily, Lead Guide (Ski Japan Holidays)

Born and raised in Southern California, with a great passion for ocean sports. In 1980 he moved to Aspen Colorado, a famous North America ski area, where he learned to ski, snowboard and telemark in winter and biking and kayaking in summer. Moving to Hawaii in 1983, continuing his passions for the ocean, he then met and married a Japanese woman and moved to Japan in 1987 at age 24. After moving to Japan, he studied martial arts intensively, to the extent that he obtained his third degree black belt in Karate in Tokyo. Wanting to leave the city, he came to live in the small village of Ogawa in Nagano prefecture in 2005. Taking advantage of his bilingual ability, he then began his career as an outdoor and cultural guide based in Hakuba valley. Presently he has also taken up farming to self-sustain himself and his family raising two daughters on their home grown rice and vegetables. His present job involves taking foreign visitors on cultural tours around Nagano, especially to Jigokudani Snow Monkey Park for over 10 years. He is certified in Wilderness First Aid.

Toshu Arai, Cycling guide (Representative of Otari Fatbike Center)

He took his master degree in synthetic organic chemistry at Yamagata University and worked at a chemical company, involved in manufacturing technology. When he started riding a road bike it was as a training for snowboarding. Then his cycling mate invited him to try the Mt. Norikura Hill Climb Race which eventually fascinated him and since then he entered many hill climb races. In 2013, he moved to Otari village in Hakuba Valley (Nagano prefecture), wanting to live in the snow country. After moving there, he started new career as bike trip guide and owns a bike repair workshop at Otari Fatbike Center. His signature tour is fat bike ride in snow, and also offers road bike and e-bike tours in Nagano prefecture, preferring to ride on the back roads with less traffic and great the sceneries. He is the founder/manager of Otari Hill Climb courses, unique cycling courses that takes advantage of the valley with many hills and few flat areas. Occasionally he also works as a recyclable energy consultant at the village council.

He has qualification for Wilderness First Aid (50 hours). He is a member of the Japan Mountain Bike Association

Information and Requirements

Dietary Restrictions

We believe that eating like the locals is the best way of experiencing Hokkaido's unique culture. However, we understand that it's not possible for everyone to do this and we're more than happy to cater for food allergies, dietary restrictions and special requirements. If you have any diet restrictions or preferences, please tell us in the Registration Form at the time of booking, and we will do our best to accommodate your dietary needs. However, please note that soy sauce is an indispensable condiment in Japan and it often contains wheat gluten (which affects those who have celiac disease; in serious cases causing anaphylaxis). As gluten-free soy sauce is yet to be a common choice in Japanese restaurants in rural areas, you may have to substitute by one of the famous Japanese salt. In some rural areas particularly, we may ask you for some flexibility. For example, if you require halal food, we may be able to substitute for a vegetarian option instead. Please also be aware that for those who are allergic to MSG we may struggle to arrange a good alternative at every meal in Japan. Some of our overseas guests in the past found it difficult to find ready-made foods completely free of MSG, especially when buying from convenience stores. Most Japanese supermarkets sell simple foods like plain bread, boiled eggs, vegetables and fruits, so you should always be able to find something suitable. The most important thing about dietary requirements is to let us know in advance so we can prepare and organize the foods you need.

Emergency Response Plan

Your safety is our top priority, closely followed by fun and comfort! All our tour guides have years of guiding experience in the outdoors under their belt. We require all our activity guides are trained in first aid (including wilderness first-aid) and aware of the health regulations as well as tour operators' practices and protocols. At all times, our guides will carry a first-aid kit, as well as have an extra kit in our vehicle. We will follow all procedure to ensure the journey is safe. Everyone involved in running the journey follows governments health and safety guideline, including regular staff health and temperature monitoring. Our office is experienced in handling emergencies and have the contacts and knowledge to support guests 24/7 in the event of accidents and medical challenges.

Depending on the terrain and the potential risks it poses on each trip, our guides will also have the necessary safety and climbing equipment. In case of heavy rain, strong winds or other unsafe weather conditions for hiking or cycling, there may be times when we have to change our tour plan. In such cases, we will try to substitute the original activity with other alternatives such as sightseeing, visiting museums or hot springs. We take charge of turning a bad day around into a fun day!

Weather Conditions

Shikoku Region

May to June and September to October are generally warm and light clothing is enough for most people, but evenings can be cooler, so having a fleece is recommended. Whatever you prepare for Hokkaido will also serve you well in Shikoku. In the autumn, typhoons sometimes sweep through Shikoku bringing wind and heavy rain. If conditions permit, we'll still cycle, so good waterproofs are essential

Hokkaido Region

Hokkaido's pleasant summer attracts many visitors from other regions of Japan escaping from the unbearable summer heat and humidity. May to June and September to October are a perfect time for sightseeing as the sunny days continue. In this season short-sleeved shirts are good for some days, but long-sleeved shirts are a must for some chilly days, especially in the morning and evening, it gets cold, so you need a jacket, sweater.

Nagano Region

High mountains of Nagano all receive their fair share of snow but in general, the Japan Sea side of Honshu has much harsher winters than the Pacific coast. Thus the North Alps get a lot more snow than the Southern Alps. Winter snow can last through November to early April. Cherry Blossom front advances to Nagano from mid-April to early May, when the last frost is observed and the riding season starts. The mountains are affected by a rainy season from early June until mid-July, around 20 July. While mountains are subject to changeable weather and must be respected, in general, summer in Nagano is pleasant. Summer mornings tend to be better than the afternoons when thunderstorms are common. After mid-August, the temperature in the morning and the evening drops significantly, and typhoons may develop occasionally. In mid-October the first frost is observed, and autumn foliage is at its peak by the end of October.

What is an onsen?

Most ryokan have an onsen spa, that is, natural hot springs. As a volcanically active landscape, Japan has well over 25,000 natural hot springs scattered throughout the country. Since ancient times, the people of Japan have loved onsen and will travel far and wide to visit famous onsen establishments.

Please keep in mind that there are certain protocols that go with bathing in an onsen, however they're super simple!

- You bathe in your birthday suit, that's right, no clothes or swimwear is allowed in the bath. Don't worry, no one is looking!
- Take a shower before you enter the water. It's important for the onsen waters to stay clean so make sure to rinse all soap off and long hair should be tied up. You can take a small towel in if you're feeling shy, but the towel cannot touch the waters.
- Be respectful of others. Do not run, talk too loudly, drink alcohol, or splash around while in the onsen.

Don't forget to take in a hand towel, so that you can lightly dry yourself before returning to the changing room. We're quite fussy about keeping the floors of the changing room dry. Last but not least, relax and enjoy yourself!

What is a ryokan?

On our tours, we use ryokan as much as possible to support local tourism businesses. A ryokan (旅館) is a traditional Japanese inn and it is the epitome of Japanese hospitality and cuisine. They are often located in natural surroundings and feature Japanese style rooms with tatami mats with rice paper partitions and futon (sleeping mattresses). Each ryokan prides itself on its cuisine and features seasonal local ingredients. Many ryokan also have on-site natural hot springs for their guests to enjoy during their stay.

Here are some good-to-know facts about ryokan to avoid unwelcome surprises.

- You are sleeping on the floor. A traditional Japanese room does not have western beds, instead futon bedding is provided. Often ryokan staff enter your room and prepare your futon while you are out for dinner.
- Ryokan provide "yukata", which is a traditional night robe that looks like a kimono. You can wear it to the hot spring spa and also to dinner, basically anywhere within the ryokan facility. Because in the evening we mostly dine in house, you don't have to bring a lot of evening clothes as long as you think you will be comfortable hanging around in your yukata. Our guides will explain how to wear yukata properly if you are unsure.
